

A STUPENDOUS AGGREGATION

The Charity Circus stands Alone in Its Colossal Grandeur.

UNIQUE AND UNAPPROACHABLE

All the Wild and Weird Stunts, Beasts and Men from the Ends of the Earth Under the Willy Are Light.

At precisely 11 o'clock next Tuesday, December 8, the grandest and most awe-inspiring pageant ever seen, on the same day, on this continent will start, with a burst of martial music and a blare of trumpets, from Sixteenth and Izard streets. Down Sixteenth this magnificent caravan, bedecked in silvery sheen and splendid array, will move with the dignity of an oriental pageant to Douglas street, east on Douglas to Ninth street, on Ninth to Farnam, west on Farnam to Sixteenth, and out Sixteenth to the den of wild beasts to the north.

This is no ordinary, everyday procession. In comparison to it the most gorgeous Roman triumphal procession would appear as tame as Maud Muller driving home the cows under the stars.

At the head of the column will ride, on their prancing steeds, a battalion of blue-coats, followed by the city acrobats in dog carts. Next will appear the master of ceremonies in his original act, "How to take a circus." The next feature of the pageant will be the animal cages on wagons. Among them will appear the beautiful white bear taming the cunning collection owned and exhibited by W. R. Bennett Co. Owing to the peculiar formation of their eyes the blinds will have to be drawn up during the street procession, but the entire collection will be on exhibition at the big show each evening. It is understood that W. R. Bennett Co. will guide his untamed Arabians from the box seat.

Browning, King & Co., the reliable clothiers, will contain the celebrated cinnamon trunk bear "Circus" and the famous man-eating polar bear "Nattie." These bears from the extreme ends of the earth will be exhibited together regardless of consequence, in an open cage, under the trainer, Mele Irish, a beautiful blonde of nineteen. This is their first public appearance since they were captured.

The driver's box will be occupied by the popular and genial manager, Major R. S. Wilcox, who will represent Uncle Jonathan in costume.

Hayden Bros. will appear in the procession, and also at the circus, with their magnificent cage of wild animals. Among them will be the famous lion tamer, who has been brought from New York at a great outlay of time and cash. The world renowned animal trainer, Lang Lang, will risk his life in this open cage with these ferocious beasts.

The Continental Clothing company wishes to announce to the public that they have at a large cost from the Royal London Manager the famous African lion, "Abe," who will be in the procession at the Second Annual Charity Circus. It also wishes to announce that the famous "Rattlesnake Pete" will act as keeper and exhibit his family of rattlesnakes, the wild and Rocky at all times during the performance.

Mr. Brandeis of the Boston store will exhibit in the parade, as well as every night during the circus, his cage of trained wild animals from the jungles of Asia and Africa, with one of the most famous lion tamer ever seen in a circus parade. There are wild tigers, leopards, hyenas, etc.

Thompson, Helden & Co. will exhibit a cage of rare wild beasts from the darkest jungles of Africa, the like of which has never been seen in this part of the world. They will be in charge of their trainers, who will show off their many remarkable tricks to the great amusement of the gazing crowds. This one feature alone is well worth the price of admission to the entire combined shows. H. A. Thompson of the firm will handle the ribbons.

The case which Nicol, the tailor, will have in the parade on Tuesday night will contain a family of wild deer from Iceland. This species is exceedingly scarce. In fact it is the only one in this country at the present time, having been recently loaned by the management of P. T. Barnum's greatest show on earth.

Mr. Cartwright's cats will be one of the sights of the parade, black cats, red cats, white cats, spotted cats, tom cats and kill-funny cats, spitting and howling their backs, chewing and being chewed. Cartwright & Co. are surely in the category as well as the procession.

As sweet as the shamrock or the perfume of the red, red rose will be the breath of the gaudy folk which will represent O'Brien, the confectioner, the parade. A car of sweets for the children of the desert, a car of beauty and a joy forever.

Orchard & Wilhelm Carpet company's cage will contain ten meters of the most beautiful specimens of these animals in captivity. Their recent capture, in the wild jungles of Africa entailing great peril and hardships and the loss of many brave men, was accomplished after months of patient effort.

The celebrated trainer Revirkov will risk his life by riding in the cage unarméd and unprotected.

A most unique cage of animals has been imported at great expense by Kahn & Co. They consist of two genuine African lions from Abyssinia and two exceedingly ferocious ones from Senagambia. They are the finest specimens of lions ever seen in Africa, and were captured by the noted traveler Henry M. Stanley, while making his last trip through that wild and unexplored country. They were then too young to take from their mothers, and are now old enough to leave home, and are rapidly getting accustomed to this country. A cage of native fowls is carried along from that to feed them once every day in the presence of the audience.

They are imbibing American ideas rapidly and one more tall tale from the other side of the globe of roses on her skin with the effect of bleaching it quite white. They are being trained as bell ringers, and will be the greatest curiosity of this or any other circus or show for years to come, the like never before having been seen. Barnum tried years ago to procure a pair for his circus, but they died before being exhibited. They alone are well worth the price of admission, and their fame is bringing people from hundreds of miles around; hence the circus people had "best come early and avoid the rush" around this cage.

The procession winds up with a callop of the greatest steam power ever employed in any of the world renowned aggregations, which circulate in this hemisphere as circuses. The steam emanating therefrom envelops entire business blocks as in a locomotive wreck, and it is advisable for parents to engage second floor windows for their children, who will undoubtedly be excited from the schools to witness this wonder on wheels, as their is positive danger that they may be overcome on the streets or sidewalks by the billowing clouds of warning. Mr. Hospe is using all the precautions.

LOOK FOR TROUBLE AND FINDS IT. Colored Man from Dunlap, Ia., Strips Up a "Hough House."

James Hall, a negro from Dunlap, Ia., while drunk last night, went into the Midway saloon, at Twelfth and Capitol avenue, and started to accumulate trouble. Arthur Woods and two other companions were playing pool at a table near by, so Hall amused himself for a time by picking the balls from the table while the game was in progress. At length he stepped on Woods' toe. This was too much, Woods reached for his tormentor with his billiard cue and shivered the heavy stick over his head. The blow was so hard that Woods' left ear, and he went to the floor without further remarks. It was at first thought that he had been killed. Hall's skull, however, proved too thick to be phased by a cue, and, after regaining consciousness, he was removed to the home of some friends at 229 North Twelfth street, where a surgeon stitched up a wound about three inches in length. It is thought he will recover. Woods was later arrested and charged with attempting to inflict great bodily injury.

Formation Period of New England. The Unity club met in the assembly room at the Public Library building last night. C. E. Herrington read a carefully prepared paper on "The New England Township," which is one of a series on the colonial history of New England. The paper was followed by a general discussion of the topic.

No Evidence of an Encouraging Nature. The popular contest is still being held on the boards at the Jacksonian club, and so far no evidence has been offered that gives a shadow of excuse for beginning the proceedings. Yesterday afternoon Clerks Schwark and Green of the district court clerk's office examined a legal opinion in regard to the issuance of naturalization papers, but nothing new was brought out. Chairman John Lewis of the republican county central committee, after a brief absence, had had become of the orders for naturalization papers, which he had sent to the clerk, but he professed his ignorance. He was questioned at some length in regard to the campaign assessments alleged to have been paid by the republican candidate, but he stated that he could not remember the amounts without the records of the committee. He was directed to appear again today and bring his books with him.

Brought the Child Here for Burial. The friends of Mrs. C. H. Williams, whose husband died in this city in March, 1895, will deeply sympathize in the death of her youngest daughter, Eva, which occurred recently in Chicago, the present home of the family, after a brief illness. The funeral services were held in this city yesterday by Rev. Dr. J. H. McLean, and the body was interred in a vault in the family lot at Forest Lawn.

GOOD ROADS CONGRESS IN 1898.

Charles F. Johnson, secretary of the National Good Roads League, arrived from San Francisco yesterday evening. He is on his way east to attend a meeting of good roads people at the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, called by General Roy Stone, president of the National Good Roads League and chairman of the United States Office of Road Inquiry, Department of Agriculture. At the request of Secretary Wakefield, Mr. Johnson has stopped at Omaha to confer with the position managers in reference to securing the National Good Roads convention of 1898 for Omaha.

Mr. Johnson was the assistant secretary of the Transmississippi congress at San Francisco in 1894. The organization work of that convention was all done in his office, and he also assisted in organizing the St. Louis convention. He made the stenographic reports and published the official proceedings of both those conventions of the Transmississippi congress. To a Bee reporter Mr. Johnson said: "I am deeply interested in the success of the Transmississippi Exposition, having been connected with the Transmississippi congress, and as I understand the Exposition to be a most important feature of the Exposition, and 600 to 1,000 delegates can be brought here from all over the United States, and an important exhibit in these lines at the exposition, it is an industry in the infancy of its development, but already there are millions of dollars invested in it, in the manufacture of asphalt, in the paving of streets, in the construction of roads, in the like New York, Boston, St. Washington. You would get asphalt and bitumen from California, and rock from Pennsylvania and New York, rock crushers from Illinois, sprinkling wagons and road compacting plants from Indiana, and appliances and patented articles from nearly every state in the Union.

The value of this Good Roads feature lies not alone in the convention and the exhibit, but it is in the immense advertisement which it will receive through the agitation of it by the Good Roads people during the next two years. There are, as near as we can now tell, over 100,000 members of the National Good Roads League scattered throughout the United States, in the membership of local, state, county and district road leagues and village improvement societies already in existence. It is only within the past few months that the existence of this large membership has become known, from statistics compiled by the Washington, D. C., office of the road inquiry. By the time the Exposition rolls round we expect that this membership in the National Good Roads League will be doubled, as there is now a plan on foot by which, through the national league, local good roads leagues are being organized in every state, county and hamlet or every community of the United States. With the co-operation of the local leagues, the attention of every state of the United States, can be directed to the Exposition.

In California there are over 5,000 members of local leagues or good roads organizations. In Sacramento county alone there are more than 2,000 members. All these local leagues are organizing into a state league as a part of the national league.

Regarding the convention of 1898 General Stone, president of the National Good Roads League, sends me the following telegram: "WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3, 1896.—Johnson, Secretary, National Good Roads League, San Francisco, Cal.: Road congress '98 should be transmississippi, probably the best location for the road congress materializes, and California, heartily supports both."

As to California's co-operation, I have letted with me from Mayor-elect Phelan and many other prominent citizens pledging their support to our national good roads work. One of them is from Julian Stone, ex-secretary of the Transmississippi congress who writes General Stone on behalf of two of our leading organizations, as follows: "SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2, 1896.—Roy Stone, Esq., Special Agent and Engineer, Bureau of Road Inquiry, Washington, D. C.: Dear Sir:—Special of November 21 received and will say that the two organizations, namely, the Manufacturers and Miners association and the California Miners association, which both are interested in the cause for good roads, and the subject is being thoroughly considered in our county. I will also do all in my power to assist the organization of the National Good Roads League in California, and in every way which will tend to improve the condition of the highways of California. Very truly yours, J. S. BROWN, MANUFACTURERS AND PRODUCERS ASSOCIATION."

"It remains now for the Exposition management to take the matter up and decide if they want this convention. With the proper invitation from them and assurance as to the success of the Exposition, I feel confident of obtaining the co-operation of all the leading eastern good roads authorities at our coming meeting at the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, California may be relied upon to co-operate in anything which is for the benefit of the transmississippi country. Her participation in such a good roads congress would attract wide attention, as the eyes of the country are just now drawn toward her good roads work. We hope to enact progressive legislation for road improvement this winter, giving a state system of roads, perhaps ahead of any other state in the world. A bill has just been recommended by our bureau of highways, and is now being printed."

The king of pills is Beecham's—Beecham's Shephard charged with counterfeiting. John Shephard, a character whose the government has had suspicions was "shoving the queer" was arrested last night and lodged in the city jail. Shephard is alleged to have passed a counterfeit silver dollar on the Burlington street street motor conductor. Shephard was arrested nearly a year ago on a similar charge, but was discharged after a trial in the federal court.

INVOICE NO. 4

Popularity wins. Truth wins. Reliability wins. Merit wins. About two months ago we introduced a new self-lined overcoat for men at $9.50. It was a novelty. It was a handsome coat and it was a good coat. It was a self-lined Kersey coat with full satin lined back and we announced it as being equal to any coat offered in other stores for $15.00. This was true. Its truth was attested by the fact that the first invoice of these superb coats lasted only four days and a second and third invoice disappeared like snow before a summer sun. This week we will have on sale the fourth and last invoice of these overcoats for this season and in quantities large enough to last all week. These coats are all wool Kersey, lined with sixteen inches of the same goods on each side and with full satin back. They are the best coats ever seen in Omaha for the price and will equal any of the current offerings at $15.00 to $18.00. See them. See them soon. See them before your size has been sold.
